interest of the city and its government at heart are now looking to the Republican party to name Mr. Nicoll for District-Attorney against the notorious Col. John R. Fellows. Irving Hall has decided to nominate Mr. Nicoll, and there are hundreds of independ. ent organizations and associations of taxpayers ready to ratify his selection for that

It was expected that a great mass-meeting would be held at Cooper Institute or in some other large hall this evening to nominate Mr. Nicoll as a Citizens' candidate. The popular uprising, however, will not take place this evening, but may occur to-morrow. A petition requesting Mr. Nicoll to accept a Citizens' nomination has been in circulation downtown sifice Saturday morning, and up to this morning had already been signed by 7,000 business

The Republican County Convention will reassemble in Grand Opera-House Hall tomorrow evening. The majority of the Republican leaders are in favor of nominating or indorsing Mr. Nicoll as a candidate for District-Attorney. The small minority opposed to this course are the professionals who think that there is a good chance of electing a straight-out Republican candidate.

While there is no doubt whatever that Mr. Nicoll can have the Republican nomination if he will accept it, there is some authority for announcing that Mr. Nicoll would like to see his chief, District-Attorney Randolph B. Martine, nominated by the Republicans for Judge of the Court of General Sessions. But although the Republican leaders are practically unanimously in favor of nominating Mr Nicoll, there is opposition among them to the nomination of Mr. Martine, they believing that they can elect a Sessions Judge. Still many of the most influential Republicans, including members of the State Committee, are ing members of the State Committee, are favoring the nomination of both Mr. Nicoll and Mr. Martine.

It was rumored to-day that Mr. Nicoll had made a pledge to Mr. Martine that he would not run on any ticket for District-Attorney which did not include the name of Mr. Martine for Criminal Court Judge.

A reporter for The Evening World learned from the highest authority that the rumor was groundless, and that no such pledge had been given by Mr. Nicoll to either Mr. Martine or any one else.

been given by Mr. Nicoll to either Mr. Martine or any one else.

If Mr. Martine should receive the indorsement of the Republicans or of a Citizens' independent movement, there is no doubt that he would consent to stand as a candidate for District-Attorney, but there is nothing in the shape of a pledge or even intimation to preclude him from becoming a candidate of any party which may offer him the nomination. Mr. Nicoll is absolutely untrammeled by any pledge or promise.

A great many public-spirited citizens have been disappointed on account of the failure to call a mass-meeting this

The County Democracy and Tammany Hall members of the two clubs can jointly outvote the thoroughly Independent Democratic members. For instance, here are the names of the County Democracy men who are members of the Young Men's Democratic Club, and who have been ordered to attend to night's meeting of the club at the Hoffman House: Pacific Railway Commissioner E. Elley Anderson, Excise Commissioner Andrews, Deputy Tax Commissioner Autenrieth, Aqueduct Commissioner Baldwin, Franklin Bartlett, Assistant Corporation Counsel Beall, Surveyor Beattie, Alderman Beekman, Mayor Hewitt's Secretary, Arthur Berry, ex-Mayor Edward Cooper, Commissioner Crimmins, Excise Counsel Charles W. They are all in favor of indorsing Col. Fellows. The Harlem Democratic Club will also proboly indorse him and the politicians are laughing at the idea of a Committee claiming to represent the club, of which Col. Fellows is a member, organizing a citized's movement in the interest of Mr. Nicoll.

MORE JUDGMENTS AGAINST FELLOWS.

They Began to be Filed Only Two Yes After He Came to New York.

Col. Fellows's advent to New York was in the summer of 1868, when he was induced to make the city his home by an appointment as Assistant District-Attorney to Samuel B. Garvin, and, although the salary of the office s $7,500 per annum, his creditors began to appear as plaintiffs even before his debts began to outlaw. A further examination of the judgment rolls in the office of the County Clerk shows that judgments were filed against Clerk shows that judgments were filed against him in 1870, and up to 1875 there had been five judgments obtained against him, as will be seen below.

A singular thing about the thirty unpaid judgments which The Evening World inds recorded against the rebel colonel is that Rastus S. Ransom, who is the candidate for Surrogate on the same ticket with Col. Fellows, appears as the successful attorney in several of the suits in which the judgments were obtained. The judgments detailed in the Evening World of Saturday were in favor of Park & Tilford, the grocers; Tiffany & Co., the jewellers, ex. Judge Arnoux's law firm, the Leiand Brothers, the hotel men, and others. Several banking-houses are down among the judgment creditors, and the judgments are for the purchase price of jewellry, clothing, groceries and almost everything else. Ex. Gov. Woodford, William H. De Wolf, Ransom & Knevals, Abel Cook, Isaac J. Maccabe, J. H. Wilson, A. J. Rogers, Beach & Brown, Peckham & Taylor, D. E. Anthony, Edmund Coffin, ir., D. H. Tyler and others appear as attorneys against Col. Fellows in the several actions.

The grand total of these thirty unpaid indements obtained since 1870 against Col. Fellows is $10,894.06. The smallest is for $52.37, and was obtained by the American Specialty Company in a District Court in October, 1885. The largest is for $2,057.88, and was obtained in January, 1886, by John B. Haskin, who is a brother-in-law of ex-Mayor Edson.

The judgments recorded, in addition to those printed in Saturday's Evening World, are as follows:

$548.83 in favor of Henry C. Denison and against John R. Fellows and John F. Cook. Obtained in Supreme Court July 8, 1870, by Nathan Solomon, attorney.

$333.01 in favor of Jeremiah Quinlan, Receiver of the Guardian Savings Institution, in the Court of Common Pleas, April 23, by Platt, Grenell & Buckley, attorneys.

$419.89 in favor of Mary R. Ames, in Superior Court, July 28, 1872, by Pillons & Hill, attorneys. $1,171.91in favor of Sidney H. Stuart, jr., ad-

[From the New York Times.] May 16, 1883, the Times announced that District-Attorney McKeon had begun to investigate an attempt to secure the pardon of a notorious criminal by the issue of a medical certificate. When the pardon was refused by Gov. Cleveland Kraus seturned $200 to Scharnikow and gave him his individual note for $50 more. Cot. Fellows told a Trin-s reporter that he had told Kraus that he would prepare papers and submit them to the Governor, and charge a contingent fee of $200. Mrs. Scharnikow having been convicted before he had anything to do with the District-Attorney's office. He laid the facts, as he understood them, before the Governor, but the pardon was refused. Then, Colonel Fellows asserted, he sent his check for $250 to Scharnikow, retaining $15 for his expenses at Albany.

The publication of the story nicely stirred up legal circles, and on May is District-Attorney Mc-Keen told a reporter: ''I had a talk with Col. Fellows yesterday about the matter and he said he did not know that he was doing anything wrong when he accepted a contingent fee for preparing the papers. The case was tried, it was true, under a previous administration, when he was connected with this office, but it was argued on appeal by ns, and I should certainly think that I was doing wrong had I acted as he had done in his place. He has returned the money, however, and I am inclined to believe that he took the case thinking he had a right to do so. I promptly wrote to the Governor, advising him not to grant the pardon, as soon as the facts in the case came to my knowledge, and I shall do nothing more now, except to write Col. Fellows still failed to see why he had stepped out of the paths of propriety. He himself had got the certificate from Dr. Seaman, and he was sure it had not been altered.

UNANIMOUS FOR NICOLL. Conference of Republican Lenders of One Mind as to the Nomination.

Gov. Hill and ex-Mayor Murphy, of Troy, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, arrived at the Hoffman House at noon to-day.

visit has nothing whatever to do with the local contest.

Several prominent Democrats who were seen at the Hoffman House to-day gave it as their opinion that Gov. Hill was disappointed at the failure of the united Democracy to nominate Mr. Nicoll for District-Attorney. The supporters of the State Administration who are members of the State Committee are privately saying that Mr. Nicoll's nomination would have added thousands of votes to the Democratic State ticket.

Gen. John N. Knapp, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, reiterated at the Fifth Avenue Hotel headquarters this afternoon his expression of opinion that the nomination of De Lancey Nicoll by the Republicans would strengthen the Republicans would strengthen the Republican ticket and be of vast advantage to the party in the State. He said: 'Of course I am in favor of nominating young Nicoll. He is called for by the people, and the Republican party is a part of the people and should do as the people command. I am in favor of Nicoll's nomination whether anybody else nominates hm or not.

"Mr. Bliss favors him too," added Gen. Knapp, slapping Cornelius N. Bliss, who had just entered, on the shoulder.

There was a conference of leading Republicans of the State and city at the Fifth Avenue Hotel last evening, and although Chairman Knapp would not say who were present, he declared that the general sentiment of those at the meeting was that it was the duty of the party to the people to nominate Mr. Nicoll for District-Attorney. The nomination of Mr. Nicoll, it is asserted, would bring at least 15,000 Democratic votes to the Republican State ticket in this city.

The Republican leaders are to have a conference at the Fifth Avenue Hotel at 8 o'clock this evening to decide upon a ticket to be recommended to to-morrow night's convention. This conference is to be a formal one and is to be attended by all the district leaders.

Another conference is being held this afternoon at the Fifth Avenue Hotel between a sub-committee of the city leaders and the members of the State Executive Committee. The afternoon conference will influence the action of the leaders this evening.

Among the Republican leaders attending the conference are Police Justice Solon B. Smith, Sheridan Shook, Cornelius Van Cott, Frank Raymond, Police Justice Patterson, Cornelius N. Bliss, John F. Plummer and George W. Lyons.

Mr. Shook. in speaking to an Evening Wobld reporter, said: "There will be no trouble over the nomination of Mr. Nicoll for District-Attorney. We are unanimous for his nomination. There may be a hitch, however, if he insists upon us nominating Mr. Martine on the ticket with him. There are some of us who object to putting both Nicoll and Martine on the ticket with him. There are some of us who object to putting both Nicoll and Martine on the ticket. I don't see why Mr. Nicoll or his friends should ask us to nominate Mr. Martine as long as Mr. Martine did not insist upon Mr. Nicoll being placed with him on the united Democratic ticket. I am heartily in favor of Mr. Nicoll's nomination. I do not know a district leader who is not in favor of his nomination."

Mr. Frank Raymond said: "It has been decided to nominate Mr. Nicoll. He will be nominated by acclamation. As for Mr. Martine is also nominated for Judge of General Sessions."

CAPT. COOKE, OF PUGILISTIC FAME, AS-SAULTED BY AN ENRAGED WIFE.

The Gallant Captain Had Speken Dispar-uaringly of Her Husband, Who is New in London for John L. Sullivan, and So With a Horsewhip She Attacked the Lion in His Den Early This Morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
BOSTON, Oct. 24—Strained relations have existed between Capt. Cooke, editor of the Police News, and Ned Holske, the ex-champion ten mile pedestrian of New England, for some time back. Holske had been in the employ of Cooke, on the Police Neces, for a number of years, and the two were boon friends and companions in all the sporting events gotton up by Capt. Cooke.

Holske acted as Cooke's agent in the preliminary arrangements for the Carney-McAuliffe fight for the light-weight championship of the world, and as such signed the receipt for the $500 deposited by Cooke to bind the match. Holske's course in agreeing to a postpone ment of the match, contrary to the expressed wishes of his employer, led to an estrangement, and as a result Mr. Holske left the employ of the proprietor of the Police News. Some say he was discharged, among that number being Capt. Cooke himself. Anyway Holskes' connec-tion with the News was severed, and he is now abroad making the arrangements for Sullivan's tour through England and the Continent.

is now abroad making the arrangements for Sullivan's tour through England and the Continent.

Mrs. Annie Holske, the young and pretty wife of Sullivan's advance agent, and her two bright little children remained behind. Her indignation over what she considers unjust treatment of her absent husband reached a climax this morning.

Capt. Cooke sat in his private office at 8 o'clock reading over his exchanges when suddenly the door burst open, and Mrs. Holske, pale and holding aloft an envelope in her left hand, stepped briskly into the centre of the room and in front of the captain's desk. Mike Collins, son of the man who owns the building at the south end, in which is located Holske's Gymnasium, was in the room at the time. He is a friend of the Holskes. Mrs. Holske addressed herself to the captain as follows:

"Did you write this letter?" at the same time thrusting the objectionable missive into his face.

The letter was one written by Capt. Cooke.

time thrusting the objectionable missive into his face.

The letter was one written by Capt. Cooke to Holake while the former was in Montreal, and reflecting on the honesty of Holake in the Carney-McAulife fizzle.

She also pointed to an article in last week's News, which contained uncomplimentage allusions to the absent Benedict.

Cooke admitted the authorabip of the article, whereupon Mrs. Holake suddenly drew from behind her back a thick horsewhip and before the astonished Police News editor could get out of the way she applied the whip vigorously on to his shoulders. Capt. Cooke shouted to the enraged woman:

"Do you want to make a show of me? Stop."

"Do you want to make a show of me?
Stop."

"Yes, you scoundrel," she shricked. "You are trying to take the bread and butter out of my children's mouths, and I am going to show you up to the whole world."

Collins, who it seems, came in shead of the woman to see if the coast was clear, now interfered as Cooke grabbed the woman and ordered her off the premises. Hot words passed between the two men, but no blows were exchanged.

Mrs. Holske was finally persuaded to leave the room. Capt, Cooke captured the horse-whip.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Chief Justice Waite ced to-day that the Supreme Court before deciding the application for a writ of error made by counsel for the condemned Chicago Anarchists, considering the importance of the case, would hear further argument by both sides on Thursday next.

The decision of the Supreme Court to hear further argument before deciding the application, is regarded as a favorable sign by counsel for the Anarchists, but conservative lawyers say that the Court has taken this course to prevent any criticism that they acted without giving the case due considera-
